Chapter 5.03 Controlled Substances

5.03.01 Definitions

All terms used in this chapter shall have their commonly accepted meaning. If there is a doubt as to the meaning of a term, the Court shall be guided by the definitions of the Washington State Uniform Controlled Substances Act, RCW 69.50.101. RCW 69.50.101 as it currently exists or is hereafter amended is incorporated by reference into this Chapter, to be referred to as indicated in this Chapter.

[HIST: Source - Resolution No. 17-A-064, passed 6/12/17. This new chapter Controlled Substances replaced the previous chapter Alcohol and Drug Related Offenses. This chapter covers drug offenses, and alcohol offenses are in a separate chapter. After serious deliberation, the Port Gamble S'Klallam Tribe has determined that present day circumstances, including the Washington State's legalization of marijuana, make a complete ban of marijuana within Tribal Lands ineffective and unrealistic, and the Tribe has decriminalized its possession in very limited circumstances set out in this Chapter. Where there is a question regarding marijuana or the legality of a controlled substance in this chapter, reference may be made to the Revised Code of Washington State, with the exception that no individual may legally grow marijuana in his or her domicile for any purpose—medical or other.]

5.03.02 Substances Illegal Without a Valid Prescription

Any substance that contains any quantity of a chemical that falls within the following categories is illegal to possess without a valid prescription. The full list of chemicals contained within these categories can be found in sections of the RCW 69.50.204, 69.50.206, 69.50.208, 69.50.210, and 69.50.212 (Schedules I, II, III, IV, and V respectively) of the Washington State Uniform Controlled Substances Act. These sections as they currently exist or are hereafter amended are incorporated by reference into this Chapter, to be referred to as indicated in this Chapter. If there is any doubt as to whether a substance is illegal or not, the Court shall be guided by the provisions of the Washington State Uniform Controlled Substances Act, Chapter 69.50. Illegal substances include:

- (a) Opiates, including but not limited to substances commonly known as opium, heroin, morphine, methadone, and codeine;
- (b) Hallucinogenic substances, including but not limited to substances commonly known as DMA, LSD, PCP, mescaline, psilocybin, but excluding marijuana;

- e) "Mental incapacity" is the condition existing at the time of the offense that prevents a person from understanding the nature or consequences of the act of sexual intercourse whether that condition is produced by illness, defect, the influence of a substance, or from some other cause.
- f) "Physically helpless" means a person who is unconscious or for any other reason is physically unable to communicate an unwillingness to an act.
- g) "Sexual intercourse":
 - Has its ordinary meaning and occurs upon any penetration, however slight; and

This new chapter expanded the crime of rape into degrees and added several other sex-related crimes that were previously not listed in the PGST Criminal Code.]

5.07.02 Testimony—Evidence—Written Motion—Admissibility

- a) In order to convict a person of any rape, sex crime, public indecency, or prostitution offenses, it shall not be necessary that the testimony of the alleged victim be corroborated.
- b) Evidence of the victim's past sexual behavior, including but not limited to the victim's marital history, divorce history, or general reputation for promiscuity, non-chastity, or sexual conduct contrary to community standards is inadmissible on the issue of credibility, and it is inadmissible to prove the victim's consent except as provided in subsection C of this section. However, when the perpetrator and the victim have engaged in sexual intercourse with each other in the past, and when past behavior is material to the issue of consent, then evidence concerning the past behavior between the perpetrator and the victim may be admissible on the issue of consent to the offense.
- c) In any prosecution for the crime of rape, or for an attempt to commit rape, or for an assault with an intent to commit rape, evidence of the victim's past sexual behavior, including but not limited to the victim's marital behavior, divorce history, or general reputation for promiscuity, non-chastity, or sexual conduct contrary to community standards is not admissible if offered to attack the credibility of the victim, but it is admissible on the issue of consent only under the following procedure:
- 1. A written pretrial motion shall be made by the defendant to the Court and prosecutor stating that the defense has an offer of proof of the evidence of the past sexual behavior of the victim proposed to be presented and its relevancy on the issue of the consent of the victim;
- 2. The written motion shall be accompanied by an affidavit or affidavits in which the offer of proof shall be stated;
- 3. If the Court finds that the offer of proof is sufficient, the Court shall order a hearing out of the presence of the jury, if any, and the hearing shall be closed except to the necessary witnesses, the defendant, counsel, and those who have a direct interest in the case or in the work of the Court.
- 4. At the conclusion of the hearing, if the Court finds that the evidence the defendant is offering regarding the past sexual behavior of the victim is:
 - i) Relevant to the issue of the victim's consent;

Title 5- Page 28 Amended 8/27/18

- ii) Not inadmissible because its probative value is subsequently outweighed by the probability that its admission will create a substantial danger of undue prejudice; and
- iii) Imperative to the defendant's right to a fair trial in that exclusion of the evidence would result in denial of substantial justice to the defendant, then the Court shall make an order stating what evidence may be introduced by the defendant and the nature of the questions to be permitted. The defendant may then offer evidence under the order of the Court.

5. Nothing in this section shall be construed to prohibit cross-examination of the victim on the issue of past sexual behavior, but the Court may require a hearing under subsection C of this section concerning such evidence.

5.07.03 Defense to Prosecution Under This Chapter

In any prosecution under this chapter in which lack of consent is based solely upon the victim's mental incapacity or upon the victim being physically helpless, it is a defense that at the time of the offense the defendant reasonably believed that the victim was not mentally incapacitated and/or physically helpless. The defendant has the burden or proof by a preponderance of the evidence.

In any prosecution under this chapter in which the offense or degree of the offense depends on the victim's age, it is no defense that the perpetrator did not know the victim's age, or that the perpetrator believed the victim to be older. It is a defense that at the time of the offense the defendant reasonably believed the alleged victim to be older based upon declaration as to age by the alleged victim. The defendant has the burden of proof by a preponderance of the evidence.

- e) For the purposes of this section, "drug-related" means an acute medical condition that is the result of the ingestion or use by an individual of one of more controlled substances or one or more controlled substances in combination with alcohol, in quantities that are excessive for that individual that may result in death, disability, or serious injury.

- g) Nothing in this section shall prohibit arrest, prosecution, or conviction for any crime not listed herein. Additionally, nothing in this section shall prevent the seizure of any drugs or paraphernalia found at the scene of a drug-related overdose or other life-threatening emergency.

[HIST: The Port Gamble S'Klallam Tribe recognizes that fear of contact with the authorities is a main reason that drug overdose victims may not reach help and services in time during an overdose. The chance of surviving an overdose depends greatly on how fast one receives medical assistance, and The Tribe created this law in order to encourage persons to seek help during a drug overdose or other life-threatening emergency. This Chapter was adopted by Resolution 16-A-084, passed 6/27/16.]
